THAT COOK-STOVE TAX.

Our fellow townsmen, Mr. A. M. Valentine, who is a telling demagogue when it comes to enthusiasm, activity, and hope, is doing the best he can to contribute to the success of Mr. Cleveland by writing some tariff-for-revenue articles for the Recorder. If there is anything the editor of the Gazette admires in a young man it is a spirit of enthusiasm coupled with desecration; but our friend Valentine seems to have the enthusiasm without the desecration. His boldness in discussing the cook-stove question is a good deal like the boldness of Peter Apple, of Oakland, Indiana, who was enlisted in the Eleventh Indiana. At the siege of Vicksburg, where a charge was made on the enemy's works, the men were forced to retreat, but Peter did not hear the command, neither did he seem to see the retreat, and so he went on, jumped upon the works, killed the first man he could reach, dragged him down and led him to the Union trenches with the remark to his comrades, "what made all you fellows turn back? why didn't you follow me and each one of us could have killed a rebel and left nobody on the works?"

Mr. Valentine has this to say about cook-stoves:

"Take the tariff tax upon iron. Iron is a product which enters the innumerable articles of absolute necessity to all of us. There is a person in Janesville who is besieged by the tariff tax upon iron. The Janesville Gazette again tells you that you pay no tariff tax upon iron; that the consumer does not pay the tax, but again I ask you who does pay the tax? For instance, who does pay the tax upon the tariff tax upon the cook-stove? You say, say a stove that costs you $30, the tax upon which is 47 per cent., amounting to $14.10. That is, by reason of this tariff law you are obliged to pay for a cook-stove $44.10 more than you would have to pay if there was no tariff upon it. The Gazette hopes to attract Mr. Valentine's attention long enough to throw some light on his mind in regard to this cook-stove. The duty on iron ore is only 7 cents a ton, and suppose it required 600 pounds of ore to make a 300 pound stove, the tax on the stove, if we call the duty a tax, would be only 22 1/2 cents, and not $14.10. It is a pretty good size stove that will weigh 300 pounds, and suppose it weighs 200, and we take the iron in pigs, the duty on which is only 3-10th of a cent a pound, and still the duty on the iron in the stove would be only 90 cents instead of $14.10.

The idea that a large and handsomely made cook-stove should be reduced in price $14.10 can only be based upon the theory that the men who work in the foundries and make the stoves, and those who do the polishing as well as the ornamental work, must have the wages reduced to correspond with the reduction in the price of the stove. The tariff has nothing whatever to do with the price of stoves. They are cheaper and better now than they were ever before known to be in the history of this country. The greater cost in the manufacture of stoves is not the raw material, but in the cost of wages.

The cook-stove tax which Mr. Valentine is so much interested in, is a good deal like the "poor man's blanket" tax, which was discussed in last Congress law spring. The democratic claimed that the tariff was added to the price of the blankets. So to illustrate the fallacy of such an argument, the republicans took a pair of five pound blankets, all wool. If the free trade theory is true that the price of the blanket is increased by the amount of the duty, the poor man's blanket which was exhibited in the house of representatives, would cost $9.35 cents a pair; whereas the retail price was only $5.20. Then suppose you take another illustration, trying to prove that the duty adds to the price

THE MADNESS OF THEIR METHODS.

WHITEWATER, Sept. 20.—The Hon. U. H. Gray, of Danville, addressed a large democratic audience here to night. He defended the Mills bill, denounced Governor Hoard's administration and attacked Mr. Hoard in a very abusive manner.

Abusing Hoard! for what? A democrat who has the cheek, and has suffered the loss of self-respect to that degree as to lead him to abuse a man like Mr. Hoard, is in a very low condition of mind. If there ever was a man brought before the public as a candidate for an office of responsibility and dignity, who can justly claim the abiding respect and the tender regard of all men irrespective of party lines, that man is William D. Hoard. When one looks at the man as he is now, the struggles that have been his constant companion for the greater part of his life, how he has fought with adversity very much as Paul fought with beasts at Ephesus, and yet how splendid has been his victory; and when one, even a political enemy, ponders on how much Mr. Hoard has done unselfishly for others, how much good human knowledge he carries about with him, how exhaustless seems to be his words of wisdom as well as his fund of humor, how ably and attractively he discusses all important agricultural and national questions, and how much about reproach in all things the man is, isn't it a wonder that a man of pretended honor and assumed intelligence can be found, who would so far dishonor himself as well as outrage the feelings of all respectable people, by heaping abuse upon Mr. Hoard?

If Mr. Gray thinks he can give aid and comfort to the democratic cause by throwing mud at Mr. Hoard, he will learn by an unpleasant experience that he was sadly mistaken. Mr. Hoard will be elected by an overwhelming majority, and perhaps abuse can't check the tide which has set in for him.

Then what has Mr. Gray, or any other democrat, got against Governor Hoard? What is the matter with his administration? Where in all the history of the state can a better one be found? Hasn't the governor blundered enough to suit the democrats? Does his administration which has been one of economy and cleanliness, disarm democratic stump speakers and therefore they get mad and open their mud machine upon him? This seems to be the trouble with our friends, the democrats.

Among the hundreds of democratic confessions that are being made in this campaign, the following is a fair sample from Piquette, New Jersey, Herald, which has always been democratic: "Every reader of this paper knows we don't like Cleveland. We don't like his policy. We don't like his democracy. We don't like his second presidential term, because it is a forewarning of himself. We don't like his free trade. We don't like his aggression of legislative power, and believe the veto power was only introduced to affect unconstitutional and positively questionable legislation. We like his contribution of $10,000 to the national committee as an evidence of his faith in democracy, and yet we doubt if it would have been $10 to elect anybody but himself to the presidency."

Charles Keyson, of White Creek, New York, an extensive wool grower, and who is largely interested in sheep in Texas, has heretofore trained with the democracy, but this year he is enthusiastically supporting Harrison and Morton. Mr. Keyson says: "The revolt against Cleveland and free trade is spreading. They can't stop it—there don't seem to be any stop to it. If it keeps on there won't be enough left of the democratic party in our district to organize. No intelligent farmer who has his own interests at heart, will follow the free traders. Protection is needed. There are many democrats who say they shall do as I am going to do—vote for Harrison and Morton and protection."

The Madison Democrat decides that upon the same proportion of democratic increase shown by the Maine election several states will be lost by the republicans which were carried by Maine in 1884. Which one?—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Then let a republican newspaper decide that upon the same proportion of republican gains as shown by the Arkansas election, the republicans will carry every state in the north, and also Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Maryland, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia; for Eagle, the democratic candidate for governor, was elected by only 14,591 majority, a loss of 30,445 since 1884.

Returns of a canvass in progress by order of the republican leagues in democratic towns and cities in New York, regarded as strongholds of that party, outside of New York City and Long Island, show the interesting fact that in 106 republicans with a membership of 6,800 there are 1,506 voters who have heretofore voted the democratic ticket, but who will this year support Harrison and Morton.

A lesson for farmers is brought out by an eastern paper: "The free-traders never tire of telling how the number of sheep have decreased in Vermont and other states under protection. The agricultural returns just issued in England show that on June 4, 1888, the number of sheep in Great Britain have decreased

THREE OF A KIND.

Thieves with Different Modes of Plying Their Vocation.

IN AN ATTEMPT TO ROB NEW YORK BANKS.

The Daring Thief Captured—A New York Real Estate Clerk Makes Away with a Large Sum—70,000 Bushels of Wheat Stolen in Minneapolis.

A DESPERATE ROBBER. New York, Sept. 21.—Henry F. Harding, alias H. F. Sawyer, who says he recently came here from Chicago, jumped on the wire coping of the Fifth National Bank about noon Thursday and scratching three packages of money, each containing $1,000, while the paying teller's hand was turned, started to run away. The cashier had noticed the theft and gave the alarm, and Harding was pursued, but escaped.

In his flight he dropped one of the packages. A couple of hours later Harding walked into the Commercial National Bank on Wall street, and pursuing the same tactics, while the teller's attention was called elsewhere, he abstracted two packages containing $7,500, which he dropped into a flannel bag. The theft was noticed by a book-keeper, who gave the alarm and started in pursuit.

On the night of the 19th, Harding, leaving the bank, was followed by a large crowd. He drew a revolver and fired two shots at his pursuers, and then ran away. He was as far as Madison Lane before being caught, and fired two more shots at Policemen Nesbitt before he was arrested. He was identified at the police station later by the clerk and porter of the Fifth National Bank as the same person who had robbed that institution earlier in the day.

STRENGTHENING SWINDLER. New York, Sept. 21.—James Edward Bedell, aged 42 years, real estate clerk for the law firm of Shipman, Barlow, LaRocque & Chase has been arrested upon the discovery that during the past five years he has swindled the firm out of $20,000, and has been carrying on a similar scheme on his own account.

The number of persons victimized is large but it is believed that they all have been recovered. Bedell's employers, the Charles D. Bedell estate, estimated $20,000 through Bedell on one of his supposed mortgages. Other sufferers are the Schmitt estate, $20,000; Herman Koep, $10,000; and Henry D. Sayre, $25,000.

Bedell told Inspector Byrnes that he had spent $120,000 in playing policy at Emerson & Co's place, 189 Broadway. Both this and the other money were taken from the firm's large warehouse on Twenty-fourth avenue, east. It was but recently—and then by mere accident—that the officers of the company learned of the criminal. A news man, who was employed by the company, suspected the company that Harley was one of the principal men in the deal. During the morning Charles M. Mason, an employee of the company, saw a man, who he at first took for a stranger, and was dressed in the garb of an ordinary workman.

The stealings extended from last September to a month or so ago. It seems that a trusted employee of the company, a high-spirited and expert elevator man, was the medium through whom these heavy pilferings were made. It was done by overloading cars. The cars leaving the elevator were loaded with wheat to the extent of 50, 100 and sometimes 150 bushels. The man was suspected of selling the wheat to several wheat-buying firms for some time before being suspected in another branch of business in Minneapolis.

UNPRECEDENTED CORN CROP. Estimates from Thirteen States Indicate a Production of 2,000,000,000 bushels. CINCINNATI, Sept. 21.—The area of corn this season will be about 55,450,000 acres. The bulk of the crop is secure from injury from hard frosts and but little damage has resulted from this cause. The corn crop will exceed any previous record. The results imply an increase of 200,000,000 bushels over the crop of 1887. The results imply an increase of 200,000,000 in the seven surplus states, and in the six other Western States 33,000,000 bushels.

Rates Likely to Advance. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has called a meeting of the directors in New York, and the representatives of the various roads will assemble in that city to-morrow to discuss the various questions which are now agitating railroad men throughout the country. A large attendance is expected. An attempt will be made to advance on west-bound freights, and it is likely that it will succeed.

Miller Indorsed. NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The United Labor State convention last evening indorsed Warner Miller, the republican candidate for Governor, and the ground that the party favored to electoral reform. The convention nominated candidates for the next State offices, as follows: For Lieutenant-Governor, John H. Blakey; for Judge of the Court of Appeals, John A. McKim; for Electors-at-Large, James W. Redpath and Victor A. Wilder (Messrs. Clancy and McGlynn declining the honor). District electors were also nominated. The vote on indorsing Miller was 194 to 103.

Friendly to the Turks. LONDON, Sept. 21.—In an interview with the Nizam of Hyderabad's agent Mr. Gladstone said that he retained very friendly feelings toward Turkey. On the one hand he said that the British troops in Egypt, the Sultan, however, refused to do so. Mr. Gladstone said that he was confident that the Government intended to evacuate Egypt at the earliest possible moment.

An Aged Hero Loses His Life. BOSTON, Sept. 21.—Patrick Tracey, aged 90, for sixteen years a baggage porter of the Old Colony railroad at Hyde Park station, was killed Thursday while trying to save the life of Mrs. Mary Young, aged 69, of Sharon, who had fallen in front of a train while crossing the track. Mrs. Young was injured in a probably fatal manner, and would have been instantly killed but for Mr. Tracey's actions.

—Saturday, September 22nd, A. D. Sanborn & Co. open their new grocery at 120 West Milwaukee street, with as complete a stock as there is to be found in the city. Their stock is all new, and brought for cash from first hand, thereby enabling them to give very low prices, and the best of goods. They are old carriers, and have a large circle of acquaintances and friends. We therefore bespeak them a large trade.

—The common council will be compelled to appoint a "special" policeman to attend to the "born exchange" display fountain. Many people drive their thirty horses right by the watering of animals, right over the sidewalk to the basin of the display fountain and let their horses take a drink from the pool. This may be a good thing for the horses, but it will soon make an intolerable nuisance around the fountain. Perhaps it will require a double-strand barbed wire fence to keep such people away.

—There has just been placed in the G. A. R. hall a handsome portrait of the late Lieutenant Mark Amos, 12th Wisconsin Battery. The portrait is true to life and is the work of Mr. F. Sway, with Geo. W. Wise, photographer, West Milwaukee street. The idea of placing the portrait in the G. A. R. hall originated with Mr. H. S. Woodruff, whose well known generosity led him to have the picture enlarged and handsomely framed. The donor stipulates that when the G. A. R. organization is disbanded the picture shall be tendered to the Public Library.

RESULT OF GOOD BREEDING.

The Splendid Record of Some of Janesville's Trotting Stock at the State Fair.

McKinney's Phalaris and Smith's Massasoit Win New Records.

In winning yesterday's races at the Wisconsin State Fair at Milwaukee, the Milwaukee Sentinel gives the following "grand off" to some of Janesville's trotting stock:

And there were some very good races. It was a great day for the Wisconsin-bred horsemen. First the Wisconsin-bred Phalaris won the record for 2-year-olds in the remarkably good time of 2:35.3/4, and then he trotted to the best of the record and did it. Phalaris won the record for Wisconsin-bred 3-year-olds. The colt went the half in 1:13, the crowd on the upper turn crossing the track impeded her progress; she trotted the last quarter in 30.1/4 seconds. Phalaris won the record for 2-year-olds in the 2-year-old class, making the record in the phenomenal time of 2:33.1/4. The dam of Phalaris was by Daniel Lambert.

For the trotting stake Frank L. Smith's Massasoit was a walker, making the mile at an easy jog in 2:51.

THE 3-YEAR-OLD COIT RACE.

It took but two heats to decide the colt race for 3-year-olds postponed from the previous day, being for the Wisconsin Trotting Horsebreeders' stake, with $100 added money by the State Agricultural society. It was not a particularly exciting race, as McKinney's boy Billy Phalaris did all his own work, but the time made was very good. In the first heat Phalaris led the way without a skip from start to finish. Massasoit left his feet at the beginning, but managed to retain second place without much effort, while Abram brought up the rear. The second heat was about the same, Abram falling far in the rear and being easily outdistanced. Phalaris won the race in 2:35.3/4.

SENIOR, VETERAN, FARMER RACE.

McKinney's boy Billy Phalaris won the senior race, making the mile at an easy jog in 2:51.

THE 2-YEAR-OLD COIT RACE.

In contrast to the one-sided character of the colt contest was the 2-year-old race with which it was very well matched. It was as speedy a race as one could expect to witness. As the drivers were going through the preliminary speeding, the stallion Stanley, driven by the veteran tanner Spencer, attracted great admiration in the grand stand, and he was very much admired by the spectators. He was very much admired by the spectators. He was very much admired by the spectators.

CAUGHT IN A SAW.

Alderman Sutton Norris Loses Three Fingers and a Portion of His Thumb.

Yesterday afternoon a very serious accident happened to Alderman Sutton Norris, of the firm of Shepley & Norris, by which the shopkeeper lost three fingers and one joint of the thumb of the left hand. Ald. Norris was at work sawing a piece of wood with one of the large circular saws in his establishment, when he had finished the sawing, when, in some
